Introduction

What is the programme?

The programme is aimed at increasing reading and spelling and uses secondary curriculum and high frequency words (HFW). It approaches literacy acquisition at the word level and addresses the gaps in phonics knowledge through the application of analytic phonics (drawing pupils’ attention to the make up of words as they break up the target word).

The words are grouped by selecting those that visually look different to each other. It is felt that this programme is appropriate for all secondary pupils with reading and/or spelling difficulties, who have already been exposed to effective phonics/literacy teaching but are still struggling. For pupils whose standardised scores are below 80, it is suggested that they first complete the SNIP Literacy Programme Part 1 which is based on the primary high frequency words.

What is its rationale?

Our experience as dyslexic tutors has taught us that:

- Many pupils who required support were already familiar with sound/symbol relationships. They could say the sound represented by symbol, although often struggled with more complex diagraphs and were often unable to blend the individual sounds into a word or pronounce it correctly.
- Structured and cumulative phonic programmes take a long time to have an impact on reading and spelling accuracy. This rate of improvement is not likely to have a positive impact on a pupil’s self esteem and willingness to persevere. We wanted to provide something that was different to the interventions they had received previously and had identifiable results that persuaded pupils it was worth giving a try!
- Our pupils rejected work that looked easy – these words look challenging and learning the curriculum words gave a huge boost to our pupils when undertaking work in the classroom.
- We avoided grouping words that were visually similar. Instead we grouped them by syllables; one syllable and then (in part 3 and part 4) two syllable words. We continued with the same layout and exercises as we used in the primary programme, but as these words became increasingly difficult, we added additional exercises to increase the level of overlearning.
- Our time with pupils was often short. For the majority we spent 1 x 40 mins a week with them. If their needs were substantial, then for a few we had 2 x 40 mins – this is very little time to improve literacy, particularly if the problems were in both reading and spelling.
- Comparisons of interventions often measure progress over the short term. This can be misleading as often the initial rate of improvement is not maintained. Records using the SNIP literacy programme indicated that over a 4 year span, the average improvement for all pupils was slightly more than 10 months a year in spelling and 12.1 months in reading. This included the pupil with the most significant need, who averaged 3.5 mths a year in spelling and 4 mths a year in reading and the most improved pupil, who averaged 14 mths a year in spelling and 19 mths a year in reading.
Delivery

The programme needs to be delivered at one pack each week – slower than this and progress will be not sufficient to ensure increased levels of progress. It could be delivered in a single session – at least 40 mins, but great care needs to be taken with this. Pupils will also need the over-learning necessary to make sure the spelling are automatically recalled and this means that in addition to the 40 mins they also need 10 mins twice a week to go over the words. (WordShark is ideal for this – just put the target words in and the software programme will jumble them up into games) The accurate answer to how much time is required, is probably sufficient to ensure that a whole section is completed and that 100% accuracy in reading and 90% accuracy in spelling is achieved when success is assessed at the end of the week. This is likely to be different for each pupil. The programme could also be delivered in shorter sessions (say 10 mins each day) but this needs to be undertaken every day.

Who can deliver it?

Anyone who is experienced in teaching pupils who have learning difficulties so they can point out strategies to support learning e.g. through highlighting the chunks in a word, linking phonic knowledge and/or using mnemonics.

Where do you start?

With most pupils, start at the beginning. Ask the pupil to first read and then spell the words and mark their levels of accuracy. Their results are shared with them so that they can see their own success and understand their efforts have led to this progress. This is not a done-to programme. Many pupils have become overplacid and reliant – they just hope that someone is going to come and “cure” them. They need to link their own efforts to progress – our job is to provide them with the tools to do so – the effort is theirs and so is the resultant improvement.

What does part 2 contain?

Eight one beat words plus 5 revision (overteaching) sessions so in total 13 sessions. Each session targets 9 words. In the early part of the programme the sessions have 3 pages but as they become more difficult and require additional overlearning then there are additional pages.

How should the sessions be delivered?

1. Begin with reading the words out loud – shared reading – linking with words already known. Explain the vocabulary and encourage the pupil to put the word in a sentence. Then the pupil reads out the words independently but help is provided if necessary. Pupils need to be familiar with the words before they start to learn to spell them.
2. Look, say, cover, write and check in the first column, one word at a time – if they make an error – examine where it went wrong, emphasising the letters they have placed in the right place and try again. The extra columns are provided so LSCWC can be completed again preferably daily.
3. Tracking. The words are written in the letter sequence twice. So the pupil would say out loud e.g. “guard” g-u-a-r-d (We have no issue if they say the name or the sound of the letter as it is the sequence that is important) Then they place their pen under the first letter, in this case “s”, and draw a line underneath the letters until they come to the “g” – they loop over this letter – then go onto find “u” etc. Each time they loop a letter they say it out loud. The word is hidden twice in the line. They complete the rest of the column.

Other exercises may include:

- Anagrams – reordering the letters to link the word and write it on the line – again saying it out loud to rehearse the sequence of the letters.
- Writing out the capital letters. This exercise was included as we realised that many pupils did not automatically know how to form capital letters or match them with the lower case – but it also provides another opportunity to practice writing the words out.
- Which word is missing – provides an opportunity to read words previously taught Useful to hear the pupil reading this section aloud.
- Matching the word shapes – all words provided and they fit in one of the boxes – again another opportunity to write out the words and to notice the relative size of the letters in order to provide an image of the word shape.
- Putting in the missing word – this begins with just single words but as the programme progresses, it provides an opportunity to practice reading words the pupil has already covered from the HFW list. It is also used as a device to rehearse words already learned that might be tricky.
- Crossword – this is to write words out again but also ensure they are familiar with the word meaning – again only the 9 target words are used as the answers.
- Wordsearch – all target words included either horizontally or vertically – again as they are in upper case the pupil needs to be able to look for the letter order.

After each pack is completed, pupils are assessed on their ability to read/spell the words. 100% accuracy in reading and only one error in spelling is the target and success is celebrated and rewarded. It is vital that the pupil retains ownership of the process and does not pass responsibility for learning to the tutor...

Which word from the list is not used in this passage?

The makers of Zesty tomato sauce believed that their product was popular because of its rich colour and the strength of its flavour. They felt the customers chose their brand because it was easy to use straight from the bottle. Other brands were thought to be a little sour and one had a weird spicy taste that some children disliked. The makers of Zesty gave free samples away to urge customers to compare flavours but many customers said that they are sticking to their first choice.

The reign of the King was being celebrated with an hour long party in the city square. The King was hoping to impress his subjects with his new clothes made with a rare cloth brought from the east. However, due to much feasting, the growth in the King’s girth had resulted in a long split down the jacket. To the tailor’s relief, the King was not concerned about this slight problem and said that he would make sure that the shirt he was wearing was the same colour so the split would not be obvious.
